Register for Your Advising Appointment

There is plenty of time for everyone to be able to see me prior to their registration appointment. It is highly recommended that you register for an advising appointment by March 15. Please remember that there is not time for any of you to make another appointment if you miss the scheduled appointment. Given that, there will be one make up day for those who miss their appointments without giving me prior notice. This semester, there are no exceptions to the new “no-show” rule.
